PENSACOLA TO HAVE
BAND HERE FOR GAME
THIS FRIDAY NIGHT

In addition to seeing a swell football game Friday evening when St. Stanislaus meets Pensacola at the local stadium spectators will also hear one of the largest and best high school bands in the South.

A one hundred and ten piece band will travel from the Florida city, along with the team to play music during the game here.

St. Stanislaus Band will also be on hand to pep up the evening—the two music units should be a great added attraction for the final game of the season for the local school.

Nov. 19 has been set aside as "Open House" evening at St. Joseph Academy with Mother Superior, Eveline, Sister Raphaela, Principal, and members of the faculty hosting parents and friends of students.

The evening will begin with a Program presented by students of the school, a tour of classrooms of the academy with examples of work done by students displayed for parents to see.

This annual event of the school is done for the purpose of allowing parents to see the conditions and facilities of the school building, and of the progress and type of studies taught their children.

It is the hope of the faculty that through this medium all parents of children will be reminded of the evening and give their children the pleasure of their personal interest in their school life by being present.

A court, the king, queen and maids and dukes, will be presented in a half-hour ceremony during the annual Flea-Fly game to be played on Sunday, November 24, 1957, at St. Stanislaus stadium.

In addition to the presentation of the court the Jacqueline Hines dancers from Guilford will furnish the entertainment. This dance group has very successfully performed at the 1956 Flea-Fly game. The Jacqueline Hines dance group are nationally known and have taken part in National Amateur dance contests in Chicago.

Names of the stars taking part in the 1957 Flea-Fly battle of the Goliaths of the gridiron will be announced next week.

There was no meeting this week of the Hancock County Hospital Board as preliminary work to be done by them in connection with application for transfer of license for operating a County Hospital had been completed and submitted to the State Board on Hospital Care.

It was the impression of the Hancock County Board that the State Board would meet Monday, November 11, at which time, it was anticipated by the local Board they would approve and complete the submitted application from Hancock County, and the transfer would be made allowing the County Board to re-open the local hospital.

Norton Haas called Jackson and was informed by Foster Fowler a member of the State Board that the November meeting had been postponed due to the small volume of business to come up, and would be held in conjunction with the December meeting.

Haas explained the anxiety of the Hancock County Board in endeavoring to expedite the opening of the local hospital, and sought advice from Fowler as to the proper policy of members of the State Board, being polled by telephone for permission to obtain the desired transfer without the delay of another month. Haas was advised that the telephone poll would probably not be legally correct procedure but was advised that a poll by letter may be considered correct and legal and might be the means of speeding action. Haas went to work immediately to get the necessary letters to each member of the State Board. The next meeting of the Hancock County Hospital Board is scheduled for Monday, November 18, and it is hoped by all members that information will be in their hands from Jackson by that time.

A delegation of residents of the Bayou Lacroix area were present at the monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors to request repairs to bridges and roadway on Bayou Lacroix Road from Highway 90 to Kilm.

These bridges and roads were badly damaged by the September storm the delegation contended and were in a hazardous as well as bad condition for operating vehicles.

The matter was discussed in detail with the Board agreeing to begin immediate work to remedy the condition.

No other major requests were made at the November meeting and the Board proceeded with routine business.

The regular meeting of the Pere Le Duc Council of the Ladies Auxiliary will be held at the K. HALL on November 20, at 8 m., with the newly elected president Mrs. John Scianna presiding.

A native of Raleigh, Miss., the family resided in Gulfport. Born September 16, 1876, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Watkins, Taylorsville. Her father was publisher of the Taylorsville Signal which is being published today by two sisters of Mrs. Russell.

The new rates will apply to all customers. The savings for each customer will be based on the amount of electricity used. The Board is proud that it has been able to reduce the cost of electricity for all our members—especially the average user," President Fountain stated. "The new rates are designed to save the four or five dollar a month user about 10% of his bill," continued Mr. Fountain. "Another group of members that will help greatly are the commercial establishments, because in some cases, as much as 15% of the total savings and about 10% of the total savings will be theirs." The Board estimates that the new rates will save the average member more than $30.00 a year.

The new residential rate, termed the "ALL-ELECTRIC" rate, allows a member-consumer to use 500 KWH for $10.58 as compared with $12.00 on the previous residential rate "A." The small store, full-time station, or other business establishment, classified as "Commercial," will pay $33.95 for 1,000 KWH as compared with $39.00 previously—a saving of $5.05, or approximately 15%.

Coast Electric is owned by the Citizens Electric Utility Foundation, which "serves" the community. "And will continue to provide electric service at cost to its members."

The new rates have been in effect with the Mississippi Public Service Commission and have the approval of that body.

Solemnity keyed the ceremony Monday morning when Hancock County paused in its usual activities to honor men and women who have given their lives to preserve the freedom of this country.

Veterans' Day was celebrated at Bay St. Louis with hundreds of men, women and children participating in the parade and following ceremonies which were held in front of the Coast Guard building. A large, hundred-lined the Massachusetts along the parade route. The Commanding Officer of the American Legion, Clement B. Boncompagni-Ludovisi, Russell Elliott made a gracious and spellbinding Master of Ceremonies. He introduced Rev. Charles Johnson, Pastor of Christ Episcopal Church who gave the invocation.

His Honor Mayor John Seafide, officially welcomed all on behalf of the City of Bay St. Louis.

A veteran of World War II and one of the Bay's well-loved younger men, guest speaker Mr. W. A. Solomon, who was a commissioned Officer during the great war of the 1940's addressed the gathering with well chosen and excellently delivered words commemorating the men and women who have given their lives to preserve the freedom of this great nation of ours. Mr. Solomon gave extensive service in the Air Force in the Pacific Theatre of Operation during the terrible World War II days.

Lucien Kilde and John Rutherford were singled out by Russell Elliott for their outstanding work with the American Legion and for being honored as two local men selected to hold State Office in that organization. Services for the day were under the auspices of the American Legion.

St. Stanislaus and Bay High School Bands each played salutes to branches of the Armed Forces.

Mr. Fred Fayard was singled out for his tremendous efforts in organization and serving as Parade Master on Veterans Day for the American Legion. For the past several years, Fayard is also outstanding for his work with the Boy Scout Organization in Bay St. Louis.

lent tribute to those heroes who laid down their lives to secure the peace and prosperity which we today are enjoying. The silence was broken by the playing of "Taps" most poignant of all music, and tears welled into the eyes of many who had lost dear ones, or who remembered the grim days of watching for the death lists for names of men who were dying to insure a freer and better future.

and Secret Weapon Is 1958 Auto Feature

Optional equipment on a majority of America's new cars is a device automobile manufacturers are calling "Secret Weapon." By no means a new feature, it can't be seen when one looks at the sleek lines of the 1958 models; its operation requires no part of the driver's attention. In fact, as one of the new cars you won't even know it's there.

The device is what is known as a "locking differential." It is an automatic function to transfer the power to the wheel having the better traction when adverse driving conditions such as those typified by snow, ice, and/or mud are encountered.

In addition to promoting convenience, the new locking differential, which was developed by Dana Corporation of Toledo, Ohio, a pioneer in the automotive field, reduces the hazards of high speed driving under certain circumstances.

On turns it permits the outer wheel to rotate faster than the inner wheel, but applies the major driving force to the inside rear wheel, greatly increasing car stability and improving cornering. With old-style differentials increased power to the inner wheel is absent on turns and the car frequently becomes unstable, sometimes goes completely out of control.

Prevents Swerve Even the worst bumps do not adversely affect wheel action with the new locking differential. The wheel jolted into the air does not spin and gain momentum, hence there is no sudden wheel stoppage to cause a dangerous swerve when the wheel returns to the pavement.

Car stability is also assured on patches of snow, ice, loose gravel, oil slick, etc. Automatic transference of power to the driving wheel with the greater traction again virtually eliminates the chance for dangerous slides and swerves.

Different car manufacturers have adopted different names for the unit on their cars. But all that you will, the locking differential represents probably the greatest advance in motor convenience and safety since the automatic transmission was introduced. Some say it is the answer to the most needed automotive improvement since the electric self-starter.

The Buyers Guide Features Mississippi

U. I. BUYERS DIGEST, a nationally circulated business publication, is featuring Mississippi this month, which through the use of pictures and stories, tells of the wonderful opportunities in "The Land of Agriculture with Industry."

Governor J. P. Coleman, in an exclusive interview, sums up just what the state has to offer in the "best possible words." Governor Coleman, the number one salesman for Mississippi, says:

"After a long history as an agricultural state, Mississippi is becoming industrialized—a change which has created new opportunity for all involved in this dramatic transformation. Under our 'Balance Agriculture With Industry' Program, we have furnished industry with buildings financed by bond issues amortized by rentals. We have given them exemptions from property taxes for five years. We have given them efficient and contented laborers who leap at the opportunity to work in these new plants. Except for an increase in the sales tax to finance the school program, Mississippi has not raised its taxes. We have had no one significant industrial strike of any kind in years. Our communities—and our people—have impressed the industrialists who have come from all over the country in their search for new and better locations for their plants. More and more businessmen are learning of Mississippi's advantages. We appreciate the opportunity, through Buyers Digest, to acquaint still more business leaders with what we have to offer."

The U. I. Buyers Digest, which is published by Universal Interchange, helps persons buy and sell business and industrial sites.

After the opening letter from Governor Coleman, the publication goes into detail explaining, for instance, the state has many cities with industrial development funds that are desirous of cooperating with industries "in every way possible."

It tells of the already established industries and lists what the state has to offer new industries—readily available sites, expandable transportation systems and adequate labor supply, plus water, fuel, power and raw materials.

This is another example of the campaign being made to sell Mississippi to industry. Publicity of this kind should be sought whenever possible, for, as every salesman knows, you have to make calls to get results.

Success Vs. Failure: Make Your Choice

Talk briefly but make yourself clear. Be a good listener. Keep an open mind—but a positive one. Learn to say yes or no. Weigh both sides of every proposition. You will then have a balanced mind. Make your decision.

The better grows by use and focus on knowledge. The more you learn of general subjects the better you are prepared to talk intelligently and intelligently.

It is not suggested you try to master all subjects but you will profit by the experiences of others.

We realize that this is a day of specialists but that does not necessarily mean you must have a single track mind. We must have imagination and vision.

Without the above requisites nothing worthwhile was ever accomplished. Bell had imagination when he invented the telephone and vision to see the great service it would render his fellow man and the world.

Let's do something about it. It's said experience is a dear teacher but fools learn in no other school. Why be a fool?

We can't in our short span of life go through all the various activities of living. There are many roads to success. Make your choice. Take Christ as your Partner and Guiding Light. YOU CAN'T FAIL.

The above was submitted by Geo. W. Shadoin, P. O. Box 345, Tulane Apts., Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Money To Old Age Assistance Clients Dropped In Third Month

For the third straight month money paid to Old Age Assistance clients dropped, Welfare Commissioner Holcomb said today.

Overall payments for the four assistance programs increased in the amount of $3,133.00, with the largest increases going to Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled and Aid to Dependent Children.

Holcomb pointed out that although there were 42,474 individual children being assisted by the department the average payment made per child was only $3.59. The number of recipients under the Aid to Permanently and Totally Disabled program increased by 197 to reach a total of 5,547 with the average payment being $19.04 per month. Average payments to this group had declined from an August average of $24.54 or an average reduction of $5.50 per check.

There were 81,841 Aid Age Assistance recipients and 5,117 who received Aid to the Blind. The Commodity Program reached its lowest point for the year with only $389,000 worth of surplus foods being distributed to 117,530 individuals. Most of these were assistance clients.

How Old Are the Gospels?

By Rev. Kenneth S. Russell, D. D., Editor

When we open the New Testament, we are more certain than we are in any other field of knowledge that we are dealing with the life of Christ and the life of the early Christians.

Our main historical sources for the life of Christ are the four Gospels. They are by no means the only sources, but they are the principal ones. And they are the only ones that have survived.

There are only four Gospels in the New Testament. They are the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John. They are the only ones that have survived. And they are the only ones that have been translated into every language.

THE OLDEST Gospel text in scholars' possession is a papyrus fragment from St. John's Gospel (Chapter 18, verses 31-33 and 37-38). Written in Greek, it was found in the early part of this century in middle Egypt. The experts on ancient writings say that the text was written about 150 A.D.

And in 1856, 108 pages of a well preserved Greek manuscript were found in Egypt containing four of the twenty-one chapters of the Book of John. Experts estimate that this portion of manuscript could date as early as the middle of the second century.

TEACHERS AND TAXES

It takes a lot of tax money from all of us to support our fine public school system—paying teachers' salaries and meeting a host of other necessary school expenditures. These costs continue to rise with today's inflationary conditions and our state and local governments are hard pressed to find the additional money needed for these essential services.

Our teachers and school administrators share a large responsibility, for on them, to a great extent, will depend the soundness and success of our children and later generations. In their great work they merit our wholehearted support and cooperation.

Mississippi Power Company, as a privately owned tax paying citizen, is proud to be able to contribute its share of tax revenues to the support of this program. This is an ever growing contribution. New generating units, new lines and other equipment are continually being added to our system. This means even more tax revenue for our government as well as increased employment and other benefits for the residents of our service area.

Our government's need for more tax revenue can best be met by more private tax paying business and property added to the tax roll. Surely this is the only lasting answer to our problem.

FIRE LANES
Many of you, due to wet weather and late harvest, have not yet diked or plowed fire lanes. Do not wait too long. Put fire lanes around all pastures to save the frosted grass grazing. Put them around stacked hay and around barns and other farm buildings. If fire gets into your frosted grass, it not only destroys this valuable grazing, but also kills out a lot of young legumes trying to come through.

ORCHARD
Now is the time to order your fruit trees and grape vines for planting a new orchard or adding to your present orchard. December, January and February are the best months for planting peaches, plums, apples, pears, pecans and grapes. Early planting is best in order that roots of trees will become well established before growth starts in the spring. Order early and get what you want. Here are some recommended varieties:

Peaches—For South Mississippi as well as the rest of the State—Springtime, Hiland, Maygold, Red cap, Disberg, Burbank July Elber, Sunhigh, Southland, Hilley, Keystone, Georgia Belle, Loring, For Central and northern Mississippi only Mayflower, Dixired, Early, Red-Fre, Coronet, Redhaven, Golden Jubilee, Ranger, Halehaven, July Heath Cling, Sullivan's Early Elberta, Chinese Cling and Elberta.

Plums—Methley, America, Munson, Wild Goose, Santa Rosa, Burbank and Kelsey.

Apples—For South Miss. as well as rest of the state: Early Harvest, Williams Early Red, Golden Delicious, and Cayuga. For central and northern parts: Lodi, Red Astrachan, Delicious, Winesap, and Staygreen.

Pears—South Mississippi as well, Orient, Wajo, and Keiffer. Central and northern: LaConte, Gardner and for trial only, Ayres.

Grapes—Delaware, Louis, Stuart, Farley.

Bunch grapes—Moore's Early, Delaware, Champagne, Concord, Lakeland, Niagara, Extra, and Muscadine.

Muscadines—Thomas, Scuppernon, Higgins, Hunt, Burgaw (?), Tropic, Yuga, Deering (?), and Creek. Those marked (?) are self-pollinating and will cross pollinate other varieties. Plant one of these for each 10 or less of others.

The weather over the weekend was kinder on the off sides the overnight change of Friday rather messed up fishing. No good reports were received.

Al Baudry and Teddy Stehmann tried the green trout Saturday afternoon but didn't do so hot.

According to reports doves are coming in better now and with the opening of the second season there should be some good shooting.

Joe diBenedetto, one of our old timers at fishing went up Jordan River Monday afternoon to do some trolling, don't know how he made out.

Sorry to hear that Harold Bates has been under the weather the past week. The fish have a rest when he can't go out.

Manual and Ronald Maurigi who have recently returned from service have been getting a few ducks. They said they are rather scarce. They love to hunt.

The American Legion members put on a real Veterans' Day celebration Monday. It was a wonderful turn out and Mark Solomon as the main speaker did a job as always. Russell Elliott was master of ceremonies. Congratulations to all of the Legionnaires.

Bob Genin and son, Robert, caught some nice speckles last week. Bob said they were really biting. They were using live bait.

Alden Mauffray and his brother went fishing Monday afternoon up Jordan River. Don't know how they made out.

Dr. John Griffin an ardent duck hunter has been getting his share according to reports.

According to reports speckles are still being caught out front and up Jordan River. Cold weather should help things a lot. Trolling should be getting good.

Vic Fouert says he has been catching some nice fish lately. Fishing is his favorite sport and he knows how to get 'em.

A party of 16 from here will go to Hattiesburg this Saturday night to attend the Miss. Southern Florida State University football game. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trapani will be guests of Asst. Coach Taylor of Southern.

Glad to see Wop Glover who was here over the weekend. Wop never changes and is always the same.

Things are shaping up fine for the Invitational Golf Tournament

CHICKEN INDUSTRY MONEY-MAKER

The chicken industry is one of the state's big money-makers, and has a place in the front ranks of the state's agricultural potential. Only two farm products, cotton and cattle, exceeded poultry in source of farm income in Mississippi last year. The cash income from sales of eggs and poultry in 1956 totaled $48,400,000.00.

"TRI-WAY" BEDS ARE VERSATILE

Imaginative engineering gives impressive versatility to the new "Tri-Way" beds. Component parts can be easily rearranged to turn the pair into twin beds, trundle beds or bunk beds, as desired. When appearing as conventional twin beds, the pair give no clue to other arrangements that can be achieved. Yet, with a few simple manipulations of mattresses, head and footboards, the two beds can be converted into a trundle arrangement. An extra guard rail and ladder are provided for use when a bunk arrangement is desired.

Mississippi still is far behind normal in harvesting and ginning its 1957 cotton crop. The Delta crop averaged 83 per cent open and 40 per cent picked, compared to 100 per cent open and 92 per cent picked as of the same date last year. The killing frost helped defoliation but also damaged immature bolls. Use of mechanical pickers is on the up grade, partly because unfavorable weather has lowered the grade of much cotton which otherwise would have warranted the more expensive hand-picking.

at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club November 16 and 17. Lots of good prizes and classes for both men and women. Better plan to attend.

"CORN CLUB" BIRTH STARTED 4-H CLUB

The 4-H Club Week had its beginning about 20 years ago. The organization was not called "4-H" at first, but the basic philosophy was much the same as it is now—the full development of boys and girls in the "4" of "head, heart, hands, health." In 1907, the first federally sponsored rural youth organization, a boys' corn club, was established in Holmes County, Miss., by the late William "Hank" Corn Club Smith, then equity superintendent of schools. Mississippi is proud of having played a major part in the beginning of 4-H Club work. The program has spread not only throughout the United States but into many countries throughout much of the world. Both boys and girls belong to 4-H, but meet separately for instruction in some agricultural or home economics subjects. Miss. has over 10,000 members. They live in the 4-H motto: "To Make The Best Better."

PINE CONES ARE A CASH CROP LIKE COTTON

The first pine cone collection drive, which originated last July, is designed to provide Mississippi tree nurseries with seeds. The pine cones collected are dried and the seeds gathered and planted in the tree nurseries in the spring. In December, the seedlings are pulled and shipped to tree farmers over the state for replanting. Members of the State Forestry Commission hope that when farmers learn they can earn $2.50 a bushel for pine cones they will cooperate in preventing forest fires. I. C. B. Neal, area forester, paid $3,000 to 80 people in Hinds and Madison Counties, for pine cones.

HOW'S THE HOMETOWN DEVELOPMENT IN BAY SAINT LOUIS?

How is the Hometown Development Program getting along in Bay St. Louis? To get the answers to the progress of the statewide program, S. E. Rabington of Brookhaven, chairman of the Miss Economic Council Committee in charge, recently made a survey of the 127 communities entered in 1957. He reports that 112 centers replied to the questionnaire.

There is still time to secure plans which during the rest of the year. In fact, work between now and December 31 might be the difference in winning cash awards. We urge local communities to renew their efforts to help themselves.

As to the local program, here is what the questionnaire revealed. Modernization of water works system, project, no progress reported; reconstruction of public pier for local citizens and tourists, project completed; hardening of streets, bond issue approved and work underway, to be completed in 1958.

Mississippi Forestry Commission Reduces On Orders of Tree Seedlings

State Forester C. B. Marlin announced today that the Mississippi Forestry Commission has found it necessary to reduce amounts on some tree seedling orders for loblolly and slash pine this year even though seedling production during the last year rose from 30 to 75 million seedlings of all species.

Marlin said that orders received by the Forestry Commission for loblolly and slash pine seedlings exceeded the nursery production by about 15 million. Reductions on a graduated scale from 20 to 40 per cent were made on loblolly pine and from 20 to 60 per cent on slash pine and all orders above 50,000.

Landowners applying for less than 50 thousand loblolly or slash pine seedlings, he said, "will receive their full amount." He added that landowners applying for longleaf pine, shortleaf pine, bald cypress and green ash will also receive their full quota regardless of the number ordered.

average yearly economic contribution of fifty dollars per acre if properly managed. "This figure," he said "would be appropriate only in the early life of the stand and would climb far above fifty dollars per acre year after the trees reach fifteen years of age."

Miss. Southern College Annual Homecoming To Be Held This Weekend

The Mississippi Southern College campus will be a beehive of activity this weekend as old grads flock back to the scenes of their student days for the 45th Annual Homecoming Day celebration. Three new events have been added to the list of scheduled activities this year, according to Powell Ogletree, Alumni Executive Secretary, who says the largest Homecoming Day crowd in the school's history is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Monti, Jr., whose wedding took place June 11, are now making their home in Bay St. Louis with Mrs. Monti's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ben Sweet. For a short time after their marriage the young couple were residing in Eldell, La. Mr. Monti, who is employed in New Orleans by the W. F. Surgi firm, has joined the ranks of daily commuters to the city.

Miss Peggy Kargsten, and Miss Marie Louise Peranich spent last weekend at Miss Southern College, Hattiesburg, where they were the guests of Miss Kinta Kargsten, a cousin of Peggy, and a student at the school.

PRE-NUPTIAL PARTIES FOR BRENDA ASSENHEIMER WHO WILL BE MARRIED NOV. 23

Mrs. Alexander S. Sonntag entertained about thirty guests at her home on Robert Street in New Orleans, recently at a surprise Linen Shower in honor of bride-elect, Miss Brenda Assenheimer. The honoree was presented a corsage of fleur d'amour by her hostess. The house held prodigious arrangements of white roses and white chrysanthemums, as well as effective decorative pyracantha.

White bells were hung at the entrance to the dining room and the table had as its centerpiece white chrysanthemum with pale yellow tapers in silver candle holders on either side. At one end of the table was a lovely large milk glass punch bowl. In the living room numbered balloons were hung from the chandelier and as the bride-to-be punctured each balloon, a slip of paper fell out and directed her to gifts which were hidden about the house.

Last Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Williams were hosts at cocktails at their lovely Brockenbrough Court home, honoring Miss Brenda Assenheimer and Mr. William DiCristina whose marriage will be celebrated on Nov. 23rd.

The rooms were beautiful with candlelight from numerous silver and gold candelabrae and arrangements of white chrysanthemums. The dining table held a silver epergne with orange blossoms and lilies of the valley and silver candelabrae with lighted white tapers. An entertaining feature of the evening was a mock ceremony. The honoree was presented a corsage of fleur d'amour and a rolling pin, covered with white satin and dressed as a bride; the groom was given an apron of white embroidered organdy and a young guest, Miss Patricia Ann Kelly, carried a brass ring on a white satin lace ruffled miniature pillow. The Wedding March from Lohengren was played and Mr. Robert Mitchell, in a clergyman's robe, read the humorous lines of the mock ceremony.
